From the Pastor's Pen

Where can we find hope in these difficult and volatile times?

Let's begin with where we should not base our hope. We have learned in the last year that medical science, for all its contributions to our lives, cannot prevent new viruses or protect us from all existing diseases and disasters.

Dr. Francis S. Collins, M.D., Ph.D. Director of the National Institutes of Health (NIH-USA) led the project that mapped the human genome, making possible the genetic breakthroughs that led to the coronavirus vaccine, he explains that DNA, the instruction book of all living things, is made up of a series of chemical bases abbreviated as A, C, G, and T.

When asked how many of these base pairs, does it take to provide the information for a human? Doctor Collins replied: "If we were to read it out loud, without stopping, it would take thirty-one years.

We have all that information inside each cell of our body."

The bible teaches that; "By Jesus all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible" (Colossians 1:16). His public ministry was marked by "healing every disease and every affliction among the people" (Matthew 4:23).

All that He did, He can still do today (Hebrews 13:8). Therefore only He, as the Master Physician, can provide the ultimate cure.
